BAPTIST WOMEN OBSERVE MISSIONARY ANNIVERSARY

Prominent Georgia Women
Have Part in Program of Meeting at Tabernacle

Nearly 800 Baptist women of the state assembled Tuesday morning at the Baptist Tabernacle to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Union of Georgia. Seven hundred and more visitors are in the city for the jubilee and several hundred Atlanta women are acting as hostesses of the occasion. Mrs. W. J. Neel, of Carrollville, president of the union, presided at the meeting. Mrs. M. K. McIntosh, of Baltimore, whose mission work is with the immigrants in coming into that port, led the prayer service, after which there were several addresses.

Very interesting was the history of the Woman's Missionary Union as presented by Mrs. J. E. Lanier, of West Point, one of the officers and leading women of the organization. She told how the union had grown from a very few willing workers into the large and helpful body it now is, and indicated its work as auxiliary to the Southern Baptist convention. Mrs. A. B. Conner, of Atlanta's most prominent churchwomen, told in detail of the growth of the missionary union, and Miss Kathleen Mallory directed the singing of the hymns. Solos by Mrs. A. B. Conner, the convention hymns, and the hymns of the Woman's Missionary Union were sung with a prayer by Mrs. Kathleen Mallory, one of the oldest members. The program for this afternoon and evening are as follows:

The Woman's Hymn—Congregation.
Permanent Foreign Mission Equipment—Miss Sallie Foster, Shanghai, China.
Adequate Church Building at Home—Mrs. B. D. Gray.
The Jubilate Psalms Offering—Mrs. H. H. Tift.
The Jubilate Psalms Offering—Mrs. H. H. Tift.
Address: "A Prophecy of Growth"—Miss F. E. Hock.
Announcements.
Prayer—Mrs. D. B. Basterlin.
TUESDAY EVENING—8 O'CLOCK.
Chorus: Processional—Southern hymns; National Anthem; hymns; Young Women's Auxiliary hymn; The Woman's Hymn.
Invocation—Miss Kathleen Mallory, Scripture, Psalm 86—Miss E. L. Anderson.
Selection—Choir.
"Our Mission and the Immigrant"—Miss Marie Buhmiller.
In Honor of All Nations—Miss Sallie Foster.
"Joy to the World"—Congregation.
The W. M. U. Training—Mrs. M. K. McIntosh, principal.
Invocation—Congregation.
Prayer—Miss F. E. Hock.
Mrs. Neel will speak at 8:30 after a noon meeting, and Mrs. Sam D. Jones will preside this evening.

One of the most remarkable of women leaders at the state convention of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Union, Mrs. Marie Buhmiller, of Baltimore, who is at the head of the organization of that city and is the immediate president of the union, will be the featured speaker as well as a great and successful worker. When she was in the city of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hall, 111. Forest avenue.

GOOD ROADS CONGRESS MAY COME TO ATLANTA
Convention Practically Assured
City at Banquet in Hotel Wincoff

Atlanta was virtually promised the 1914 session of the American Good Roads congress Monday night at a banquet held here at the Hotel Wincoff, when Charles P. Light, a member of the committee who has been looking over the city and New Orleans with a view to selecting the next convention city, declared he personally wanted the convention to come to Atlanta, and that another member of the committee, the president of the American Highway association, felt the same way about it.

"I personally want to see the next American Good Roads congress come to Atlanta," he said. "I am a member of the American Highway association and I want to see it come here. I have been to see New Orleans and what Richmond did with the bankers and I think I can assure you also won't with the good roads congress. The president of the American Highway association can't take sides in this thing, but I tell you this, he is doing all he can to bring the convention here. The bankers were greeted with cheers, and it was felt the commission report to various organizations belonging to the congress would be favorable to this city."

LOWER RATES ARE SOUGHT ON FERTILIZER MATERIALS

Arguments on the joint petition of many fertilizer mixing companies in Georgia for a 25 per cent reduction in freight rates on all materials which enter into the completed fertilizer, such as both phosphate acid and kainit, were heard by the state railroad commission Tuesday.

The railroad companies and the manufacturers of fertilizers at the ports are opposing the petition. They take the position that such reduction is unjustified and it allowed would practically ruin their business.

Horray! Baby To Rule the House
No Longer Do Women Fear the Greatest of All Human Blessings.

It is a comfort to know that those much-lamented pains that are said to precede child-bearing can easily be avoided. No woman need fear the slightest discomfort if she will fortify herself with the well-known and time-honored remedy, "Mother's Friend."

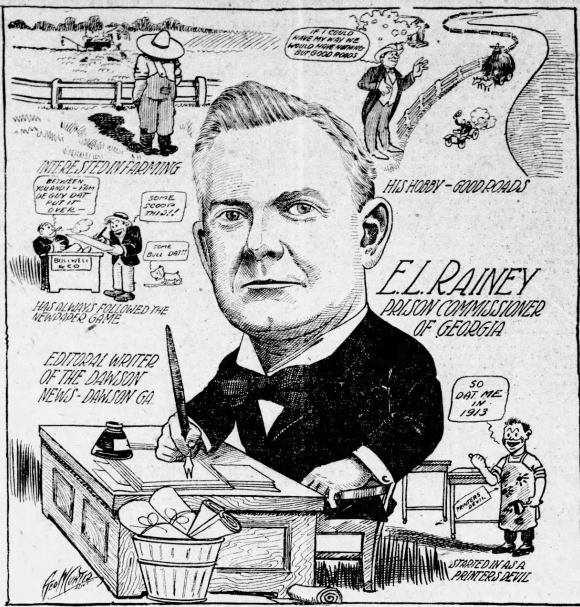

This is a penetrating, external application that at once soothes and makes pleasant the abdominal muscles and ligaments. They naturally expand without the slightest strain, and thus not only prevent discomfort to nervous, twitching abdomens, but there is an entire freedom from nausea, indigestion, sleeplessness and dread that so often leave their impress upon the mother.

The occasion is, therefore, one of unbounded joy and anticipation. The stress cannot be laid upon the remarkable influence which a healthy and normal disposition has upon the health and fortune of the mother.

You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. Write today to the Head-

SENSATIONAL CHARGE BY SURVIVOR OF SHOOTING

Quin Smith Says He Was Shot in Back by Son of Man With Whom He Fought

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
CORDELE, Ga., Nov. 11.—Quin Smith, who was perhaps fatally wounded in the shooting affray at Raines in this county, yesterday afternoon, in which R. E. Holliday, Troy King and Harvey Smith, a brother of Quin Smith, were instantly killed, is still living this morning, although his attending physician says he is in a precarious condition.

Smith made the sensational statement this morning that he was shot from the back by Ed Holliday, son of R. E. Holliday, who was present when the shooting commenced, declaring that Young Holliday fired the bullet which penetrated Smith's back and inflicted the wound which will probably result fatally for him. Smith declares that he faced R. E. Holliday when the shooting began and kept his face in that position during the duel. He received, according to reports, two bullets from the pistol of R. E. Holliday, which inflicted only flesh wounds. Young Holliday has not been arrested.

Herbert Williams, son of State Senator Isham Williams, was a bystander when the duel began. Two bullets penetrated his overcoat near his heart. He said that there were three other men on the scene at the time of the shooting, but that they ran rapidly to cover. King and the Smith boys were at Raines, said to be awaiting the arrival of R. E. Holliday on his return from Cordale.

The trouble, it is said, grew out of the new stock law regulations which went into effect in Crisp county on January 1. It is said that Holliday impounded the horse of King and that the owner was away from home. King went to Holliday's home and turned the horse out of his lot. This, it is said, resulted in the charge of hog stealing by Holliday against King.

The four men met at Raines yesterday afternoon and the shooting is said to have started with such suddenness that it was over before bystanders knew what had happened.

"SENT OVER THE CORNER."
The laconic message to "send over the corner—shiriff not needed," came here by telephone room after the affray.

At the coroner's inquest at Raines this morning, over the bodies of Holliday, Smith and King, it was stated that on yesterday afternoon when Holliday slugged from the train he was struck on the head with a stick, knocking him to his knees. It is said that Holliday arose with pistol in his hand and it is alleged that Harvey Smith said: "Come on out here we are going to give you what's coming to you." At this moment Quin Smith is said to have rushed toward Holliday, requesting that all the men keep their guns in their pockets. The shooting followed and Quin Smith is said to have received two flesh wounds from Holliday's gun.

SHOTS FROM GROUND.
Holliday was the first man to fall, and while lying upon the ground in a dying condition he is said to have fired at both Harvey Smith and King, killing them instantly. At this time Quin Smith, it is said, was shot in the back by an unidentified person and fell. On seeing the dead body of his brother he crawled to him, securing his pistol, and emptied it into the body of Holliday, the witnesses alleged.

Although Quin Smith accuses Ed Holliday, twenty-two-year old son of R. E. Holliday, the dead man, of shooting him from the rear, no warrant has been issued for the young man's arrest, and the coroner's jury late today was still investigating this phase of the matter. Ed Holliday attended the funeral of his father this afternoon. All of the slain men were buried at the same hour in the same cemetery today.

Ten Namesakes Act As Pall Bearers for Judge J. B. Gaston

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 11.—Ten persons named for Dr. J. B. Gaston, former probate judge of Montgomery county, acted as pallbearers when his body was borne to its grave today. Judge Gaston died Saturday afternoon after a long illness and the funeral services were conducted at the Trinity Presbyterian church by the pastor, Rev. W. P. Nelson this morning. Interment was at Oakwood cemetery.

Judge Gaston has lived in Montgomery since 1857. He was elected mayor in 1883 and was expelled probate judge of Montgomery county in 1905 by Governor W. C. Cates. He held this office until last week when he resigned and was succeeded by Charles B. Tisdler.

Judge Gaston is survived by his wife, one son and two daughters, Mrs. T. S. Morse, of Savannah, and Mrs. W. P. Rode, of Birmingham.

URIC ACID IN MEAT

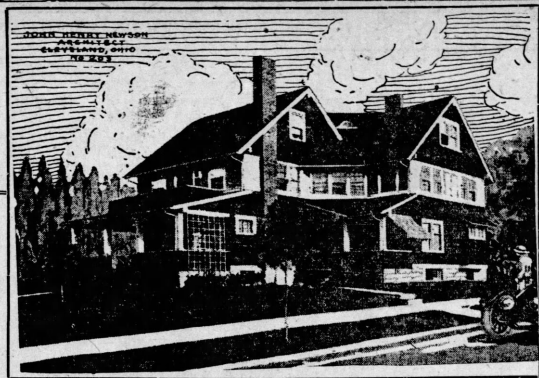

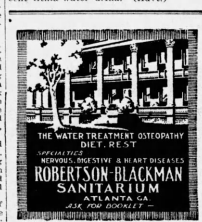

CLOSSE THE KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or bladder bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delicious effervescent lithia-water drink.—(Advt.)

TWO WAYS OF HOUSE HUNTING

One way is to take your wife and children and go out and walk up one street and down another looking up "For Rent" signs. When you find a house that you think may suit, you have no key to it and cannot see the inside of it. Another way---the easy way---is to sit down and read the ads in the "For Rent" columns of The Journal Want Ads, pick out two or three that you think will suit and then go to the men who offer them for rent and get the keys. Get on the inside of the house and you'll know whether you want it or not.

STILL ANOTHER WAY IS to advertise in the "Wanted to Rent" columns describing the kind of house and location you desire.

ATLANTA—Last Days of Pompeii.
FANTASIES—Varieties.
LYRIC—Truxton King.
BROADWAY—A Broadway Melodrama.

"The Last Days of Pompeii," Bulwer Lytton's famous novel, was graphically presented in moving pictures at the Atlanta Lyric last night and will be repeated at matinee and night on Tuesday and Wednesday. Eight reels of film make up the production, which is the greatest moving picture play ever presented in Atlanta.

Princess Rosalia is seen in the role of Isabella, playing opposite the role of Sybil, the "blind" sister, is taken by Beatrice La France, while Giovanni Novelli, Villani's brother, the king of Arles, the tyrant priest.

Adeline Francis does a moving picture company undertake such a gigantic production as "The Last Days of Pompeii" and it is well worth visiting the Atlanta Lyric.

It happened last evening, and George B. Reno and company were the guests.

Booked to close the show, they had followed up acts, from music to good, and the Monday-nighters were tired. Therefore, when Miss Reno began her song in X flat and conductor Jack Mathieson and his orchestra joined along in 42 sharp and crashed the ballad, up rose a couple in the front row and departed to catch that last car for Kirkwood. A family party from out Ben Hill were next, and then school turned out.

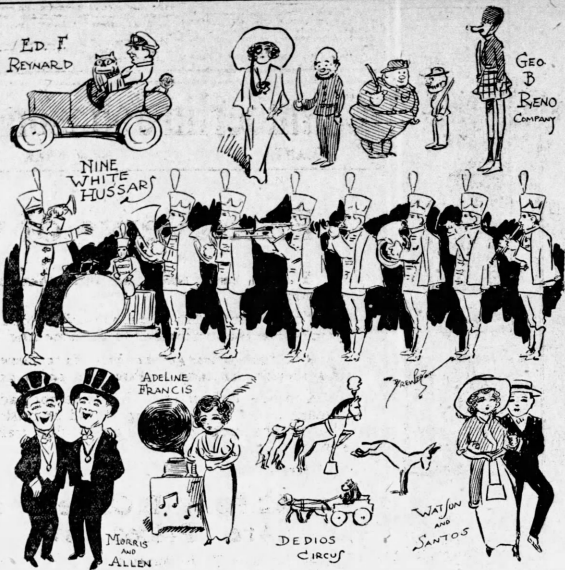

When the act was over, nobody was left in the seats but Legum York, Hugh Cardina and a trio of newspaper men. Everybody else was standing up in the seats, laughing at the act "they'd done their best to freeze out."

And the stranger in the joke is that the act was a top-notch act of its kind. Reno's "Miss Argy" includes a seven-foot-tall giant, a fat boy, a sawed-off comedian about knee-high and a commander with a clown make-up, not to mention the girl assistants. Their act is pantomime—just burlesque, knockabout, horse play, rough stuff, but so funny it brought tears of laughter. "Come to think of it, maybe that's why the girls left. Very few of these new kaleidoscopes are waterproof."

The other good acts are Morris and Allen, singing comedy with the new stuff; the Nine White Hussars, a brass band which plays very well when it tries and makes a noise like a brass band; and a couple of acts of the time and "A Morning in Hicksville," the only ventriloquist act in years, last a worth over forty-five seconds on the time card.

Ed Reno, producer, author and all the actors, has a few things to say, a remarkable bunch of dummies, and he gets away from the old, canned dialogue which most ventriloquists can't lose.

Deedle, dog and monkey circus across the hall. Adeline Francis sings duets with her own voice in a phone sing and the novelty is the only merit of the act. Reno himself sings, really well and is especially good in "trick stuff," closing his act by singing him that page 38.

pieces of tone. As a whole the bill is worth the price.

Thrills galore abound in "Truxton King," a dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's novel, which opened at the Lyric Monday night. Grace Hayward, the dramatist, scored quite a success. Her work follows a year in the Balkans, where the scenes are laid, and shows careful preparation.

Action abounds throughout the four acts. Alfred von Holten, as Olga Matanet, carries one to the mythical, Russian, atmosphere of grandeur, and makes one long to don a sword and fight for love and princesses. "The end is good and the play is expected to draw well during its week's stay."

Matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

If You're Loyal
Show Your Colors Now

An advertiser was writing about cities—especially his own.

"Like an individual person," he said, "a city has a distinct personality."

"Boston, perhaps—smug, satisfied, supercilious; Gotham, as fickle as a coquette's smile; Chicago, with its rugged vim and vigor; Philadelphia, the somnolent."

Then he proceeded to tell the dominant characteristic of his own city.

"It is LOYALTY," he averred. "STEADFAST LOYALTY!"

From which, you will see that he might very truly have been talking about ATLANTA.

For everybody knows that ATLANTA is loyalty itself.

Suppose you, reading this, had to write an advertisement about ATLANTA. You would be compellingly drawn to the theme of her spirit, her pluck, her belief in herself.

If you were called upon to define ATLANTA'S personality, you'd be obliged to call it LOYALTY—or its equivalent.

There never was a greater opportunity for the Atlanta folks to show their colors than there is NOW.

In the campaign that we are making for ATLANTA-MADE goods, we are calling on the men, the women, the children of this town to help.

What's the use of saying you are heart-and-soul ATLANTA if you don't buy ATLANTA PRODUCTS?

What's the good of calling yourself a booster if you don't boost in a practical way?

Why do you good ATLANTA women talk about your devotion to your city and yet pass by on the other side when it comes to choosing the foods that you put on your tables?

Where's your logic, you strong, steady up-builders of ATLANTA'S material interests, who give your time and thought and energy to unselfish service for the town, and yet pay for goods that come from elsewhere, when ATLANTA offers you just as good—and BETTER?

Our Chamber of Commerce is doing a noble piece of business. We approve. We're right in for all the progressive movements and all the uplift that you put on, gentlemen.

But we want every loyalist among you to use ATLANTA-MADE stuff.

Begin with your own tables and your own homes. INSIST on ATLANTA-MADE FOODS for your tables. INSIST on ATLANTA-MADE WARES in your home.

Teach your children to respect the idea. You can do it.

You housewives, don't take out all your enthusiasm in mere love of your town. Tell your GROCER how much you want ATLANTA to succeed.

The way to convince him that you are in earnest is to INSIST that he give you our goods. He'll do it if YOU SAY SO.

You teachers in our schools, doing your splendid work with the youngsters of the town, catch the spirit yourselves. Teach the children that this is a BIG TOWN, and that the best way in the world for them to help it be bigger and better is by helping to learn what it is Making and to use the products of its own factories.

This thing of LOYALTY is intensely practical.

The question is NOT "Are you loyal?" but "HOW LOYAL ARE YOU?"

Begin at once to show yourself, your family and your friends that LOYALTY in your case is a matter of actual fact. Co-operate with us in this campaign for results.

Look good and hard at the list of us who sign this message. See what it is we make. Get the names in your mind. Clip the list from your Journal, if necessary.

In fact, that will be a pretty good thing to do, anyhow. Keep it for reference. Use it on your GROCER. He's the man.

INSIST on our goods. They're the BEST YOU CAN BUY. They will pay you. They're pure and fresh and clean and right. Visit our factories.

Make your very next order a test of your loyalty. Make it an ATLANTA order.

MAIL SACK IS LOOTED OF CASH AND JEWELRY

Wife of Man Accused of $10,000 Theft Says He Escaped "Across the Border"

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Thief of money and jewelry valued at $15,000 from a mail sack was disclosed today by James Stuart, postoffice inspector here. The crime is alleged by Stuart to have been committed by Albert Tardy, a mail wagon driver.

The theft occurred yesterday. Tardy collected five sacks containing registered packages at the South Water street, Masonic temple and stock exchange substations.

Suspicion was aroused when the found abandoned at the union station. These sacks contained $4,000 in money and gems, which had not been disturbed.

Mrs. Tardy said her husband visited her for a few moments last night, told her that he had stolen $15,000 from a mail sack and would write to her as soon as he had escaped "across the border." He gave her a small sum of money, she said, and left, saying that he would catch a midnight train. Whether for the United States or the Mexican border he did not state.

Stuart said Tardy served a term in the Missouri penitentiary for highway robbery, and another at Joliet for attempting to steal a truckload of trucks. Tardy was employed by H. G. Steger, who has a contract with the postoffice department to provide all horses and wagons needed by the department. Steger is under bond to make good any losses.

Several persons witnessed the robbery. Instead of driving to the postoffice where he was due at 1 p. m., Tardy went to the railroad station and packed his wagon up among the baggage cars.

With only passing curiosity other drivers saw him unlock the door of the wagon cage, calmly rip open one of the sacks and stuff the contents into his pocket. They saw him walk away a short distance and then break into a run.

Mrs. Tardy said she hardly knew him when he came home last night, so bravely had he bedecked himself from the proceeds of the robbery. They had been married a month.

HEALTH EXPERT URGES BETTER SYSTEM IN CITY

Third of Deaths Could Be Prevented, Says Schneider, Who Tells How to Do It

Declaring that one-third of the deaths in Atlanta each year are due to preventable disease, Francis Schneider, Jr., the expert from the Russell Sage Foundation, employed by the chamber of commerce to make a survey of the city, has issued his report on Atlanta's health and sanitary conditions. He suggests a number of changes and improvements which are agreeable to the board of health.

Mr. Schneider recommends that the health department create a number of divisions, each having a special responsibility, and that a general department be established with general and special divisions, social service investigation and home nursing extensions.

He says that Atlanta's system of vital statistics is inadequate and confusing, and that the city is lacking in reporting communicable diseases. He suggests that venereal diseases be added to the list of communicable diseases which must be reported.

He especially stresses the need of controlling disease and insulating on sanitary conditions among the city, as a menace to the health of a city.

He suggests also the enlargement of the Battle Hill sanatorium for tuberculosis patients and other minor improvements in the health department. Dr. Kennedy, who assisted Mr. Schneider in preparing the report, said that it will take a great deal more money than now appropriated to the health department to carry out the expert's recommendations.

LEADING BAPTIST WOMEN IN CONVENTION HERE

The Woman's Baptist Missionary union, auxiliary to the Southern Baptist convention, is holding one of the largest conventions in its history to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of its organization. About 500 women from all parts of the state are in attendance. Sessions are being held at the Tabernacle. In the group above, from left to right, are Mrs. William Russell Owen and Mrs. Cody Laird, of Atlanta, members of the executive board; and Mrs. George Westmoreland, of Atlanta, recording secretary. Many of the officers and leading members are Atlanta women, and they are taking an active part in the meeting.

The lower picture is that of Mrs. W. J. Neel, of Cartersville, president of the union, and one of the most prominent Baptist women of the state.

Mercury at 24 Degrees; Warmer Days Coming

Tuesday morning the mercury in the government thermometer registered 24. While this is not the low record mark for this date, it is the coldest experienced for many years.

Tuesday night and Wednesday morning will find the mercury well under the freezing point, but not quite so cold as Tuesday morning. The cold spell will continue, gradually abating the latter part of the week.

COCAINE CAUSES ARREST OF MAN AND WOMAN

Deborah Broyles, employed at H. H. Hargrave's Tuesday morning when Hargrave was arrested for selling cocaine.

Hargrave was arrested with Bertha Hilde, in the Southern hotel by detectives who had traced Hargrave after seeing him sell cocaine to Robert Johnson, a negro in an alley just off Decatur street, it is alleged.

When the detectives searched, the woman's room they found cocaine in her trunk, her umbrella and even in her "boudoir cap." Hargrave and the woman were each bound over for vagrancy and violating the cocaine ordinance. Bond was fixed at $1,000 each. Judge Broyles expressed regret that selling cocaine is not made a felony in Georgia.

DOOD WILL CASE SET FOR TRIAL WEDNESDAY

Relatives Allege Woman Who Left Mercer University $200,000 Was Insane

Just before adjourning court at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon Judge W. D. Ellis, of the civil division of the Fulton superior court, announced the famous Dood will case on trial, which means this case will engage the court when it convenes Wednesday morning.

The case hinges on the efforts of relatives of Mrs. Barbara Dood to break her will in which she left the principal portion of her estate, valued at more than $200,000, to Mercer university.

Mrs. Dood's relatives are contesting the will on the ground that she was insane when she made it and that this fact accounts for her having cut them off with only nominal bequests.

During the later years of her life Mrs. Dood, who was an aged woman then, married a Dr. J. H. Garner, whom she later divorced. Her relatives contend that after divorcing Dr. Garner Mrs. Dood became obsessed with a desire to kill him and that she requested these relatives to end his life, and when they failed to pay any attention to her she then labored under the hallucination that they were not blood kin to her. Charles E. Currier, president of the Atlanta National bank, is executor of the Dood estate. He is fighting the efforts of Mrs. Dood's relatives to break the will and he will be assisted in the litigation by attorneys representing Mercer university. The case promises to develop many sensations.

She will Mrs. Dood left her estate, Mrs. Pannie T. Ackerman, of Macon, $200,000 and Mrs. E. D. Hilde, her niece, a daughter of her brother, Henry Dood, $20,000. The residue of her estate was left to charity, including small bequests to the Old Woman's Home, Baptist Orphan's home and the Grady hospital.

FARMER'S WIFE ALMOST A WRECK

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Her Own Story.

Westwood, Md.—"I am a farmer's wife and do most of my own work when I am able. I had nervous spells, female weakness and terrible bearing down pains every five or six days. I also suffered much with my right side. The pain was in my back and extended around my right side, and the doctor told me it was organic inflammation. I was sick every three weeks and had to stay in bed from two to four days.

"It is with great pleasure I tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I have followed your directions as near as possible, and feel much better than I have felt for years. When I wrote you before I was almost a wreck. You can publish this letter if you like. It may help to strengthen the faith of some poor suffering woman."

Mrs. John F. Richards, Westwood, Maryland.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

NEGRO SUSPECTS HELD IN BIRMINGHAM SILENT

Police Believe, However, They Have Men Who Fatally Shot and Robbed Two Grocers

(By Associated Press.)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 11.—Don Floyd and John Sperry, two young negroes have been taken in by the Birmingham police as suspects in the fatal shooting and robbery of two grocers.

The negroes who last night shot and shot away Stand, a Syrian grocer, and choked the latter's wife and later robbed and shot Herman Pollock, a Jew, were taken from one of them.

The negroes will not talk. A pistol was taken from one of them.

They were found, but there was no clue to the identity of the criminals.

$2,200.00 Puzzle Contest FIRST PRIZE $500 in Gold

THE PROBLEM

The problem is to count the circles. Every circle is complete and intersects or touches one or more other circles. There are no parts of circles or shams or deceptions of any sort in the puzzle. In the event that no one counts the exact number the prizes will be awarded for the nearest correct solutions. Accuracy and patience are the main requisites for arriving at the correct or nearest correct count. Those who display these qualifications to the best advantage will solve the puzzle best.

HOW TO ENTER

This contest is restricted to people residing in the states of Georgia, Alabama, North and South Carolina, Florida and Mississippi. A payment on subscription to The Atlanta Journal of from $1.00 to $10.00 for the Daily and Sunday edition, or from $1.00 to $5.00 for the Semi-Weekly edition of The Journal, entitles a contestant to submit a solution of the puzzle. The amount of money paid will cover the subscription price for the paper, according to the regular rate, whether for city delivery or by mail.

AS MANY DIFFERENT SOLUTIONS MAY BE SUBMITTED AS THE CONTESTANT DESIRES UPON SUBMITTING AN ADDITIONAL PAYMENT WITH EACH ONE, BUT NOT MORE THAN $5.00 CAN BE PAID WITH ANY ONE SOLUTION.

It is not necessary to pay the same amount with each solution. It is necessary to pay the same amount with each solution. It is necessary to pay the same amount with each solution. It is necessary to pay the same amount with each solution.

DECIDING TIES

In case of a tie, a second puzzle will be presented. This puzzle will be practicable and solvable. Only those tied will be permitted to solve puzzle No. 2. No money will have to accompany the solution. The second puzzle will be printed but once, and those tied will have a week in which to solve it. Mail subscribers at a distance, if tied, will be allowed a week from the time they receive the second puzzle, the time to be determined by postmark.

In case of another tie, a third puzzle, also perfectly solvable, will be presented. It will be subject to the same conditions as the second. The second and third puzzles will only be used in case of a tie. Their purpose will be merely to decide ties, so that in the event there is a tie, the prizes will be awarded without having to divide them or without resorting to chance.

However, only three puzzles will be presented, and in the seemingly impossible event of a fourth tie, the prizes, or their equivalent in cash, will be equally divided.

If there are no ties, there will be only one puzzle. No prize will be distributed until the contest is finally decided.

THE PRIZE LIST

FIRST PRIZE—$500 in Gold, to which will be added 50 times the amount paid by the subscriber with the winning solution. This prize may be worth $500.

SECOND PRIZE—$100 in Gold, to which will be added 30 times the amount paid by the subscriber with the winning solution. This prize may be worth $100.

The following table shows what the first and second prizes will be worth, including dividends according to amounts on subscription.

On the First Prize		On the Second Prize
$1.00 wins$250.00	$1.00 wins$130.00
2.00 wins300.00	2.00 wins160.00

5.00 wins450.00	5.00 wins250.00
6.00 wins500.00	6.00 wins280.00

THIRD PRIZE—$75.00 in Gold, to which will be added 15 times the amount paid by the subscriber with the winning solution. Value of this prize may be $112.50.

FOURTH PRIZE—$50.00 in Gold, to which will be added 10 times the amount paid by the subscriber with the winning solution. Value of this prize may be $100.00.

FIFTH PRIZE—$25.00 in Gold, to which will be added 5 times the amount paid by the subscriber with the winning solution. Value of this prize may be $125.00.

SIXTH PRIZE—$10.00 in Gold, to which will be added 3 times the amount paid by the subscriber with the winning solution. Each of these prizes may be worth $30.00.

TEN PRIZES—$10.00 in Gold, to which will be added 1 time the amount paid by the subscriber with the winning solution. Each of these prizes may be worth $20.00.

TWENTY-FIVE PRIZES—$5.00 in Gold, plus the amount paid with the winning solutions. These prizes may be worth $11.00 each.

FIFTY-FIVE PRIZES—$2.00 in Gold, plus the amount paid with the winning solutions. These prizes may be worth $8.00 each.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS

Should there be any ties, as many prizes will be reserved as there are people tied before any prizes are awarded to those sending less correct solutions. That is, if two people tied on the absolutely correct answer, they would have to count the second puzzle to determine which was entitled to the first prize and which to the second prize. Then the one who sent the next best answer would be entitled to the third. This rule will apply generally.

While the winning of a prize does not depend upon the time submitted, the prize will be awarded to the first person submitting a correct solution.

Little Girl May Die From Burns Despite Heroism of Brother

Pittsford, N.Y., Nov. 11.—The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Karr, 125 Venable street, was probably fatally injured late Sunday afternoon, when her dress was ignited by flames in an open grate.

The child is at the Grady hospital, where it is stated she has an even chance of recovery.

If the little girl lives she will owe her life to her eight-year-old brother, Jeff, who was playing in the yard, when he heard her scream. Jeff was recently released from the hospital, where he had been suffering with a broken leg, caused by the fire.

He picked his little sister up in his arms, and carrying her into the kitchen, placed her in the sink and turned on the hydrant.

The flames practically extinguished when neighbors, attracted by the screams of the two children, came to the rescue. Jeff was painfully, but not seriously, burned.

At about the same time the little girl received her injuries. A negro girl of the same age was fatally burned while playing in the yard in the rear of 209 Orme street. The negro girl was alone in the house at the time, who heard her screaming, put out the flames and called the neighbors. The negro girl died early Tuesday morning.

OGLETHORPE GETS OVER $2,000 IN BIRMINGHAM

Directors of University Have Set Mark They Intend to Reach at $300,000

Three hundred thousand dollars is the mark just reached by the directors of Oglethorpe university. Secretary Thomsen Jacob, who has just returned from Birmingham, Ala., announced that in that city Sunday over $2,000 was subscribed, despite urgent calls on the congregation for support of five other causes.

Mr. Jacob is exceedingly gratified at the splendid success the university is receiving everywhere. Last Sunday marked the forty-second time he has appeared to a congregation for Oglethorpe and each time he has received contributions of a thousand dollars or more. Now Mr. Jacob is hardly satisfied at the spirit shown in Birmingham, and said that Birmingham stands solidly back of Atlanta in the movement to re-establish the school here. Representatives from every state from Virginia to Texas are now enroute.

JEWISH ALLIANCE HONORS SCHOEN AND KRIEGSHABER

Isaac Schoen and Victor H. Kriegshaber were honored Sunday evening by more than 100 friends, who gathered at the Jewish Educational Alliance, to witness the presentation of two masonic oil portraits of the two gentlemen named.

The presentation of a portrait of Mr. Schoen was a complete surprise to him, as the occasion was arranged while he was absent from the city. The portrait of Mr. Kriegshaber is the second to be suspended from the walls of the alliance building, the first having been destroyed by fire.

A large crowd was attracted to the educational alliance Monday night by an interesting debate on the subject of "Co-Education," J. Brail and I. Korman, who, upholding the negative, were awarded the honors against D. Janke and K. Levine, who spoke for coeducation. It was decided next Monday's exercises shall include a memorial to Lewis Rosenberg, whose funeral was conducted Monday.

MORRIS LEFT CONTROL OF $20,000,000 TO WIDOW

Chicago Packer's Will Makes Her One of World's Richest Women

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Helen Swift Morris was put in control of the $20,000,000 estate of her husband, Edward Morris, by the will filed in probate court here today. This disposition of the packer's estate makes Mrs. Morris, who inherited a large fortune from her father, Gustavus Swift, one of the wealthiest women in the world.

Charitable bequests—mostly to Chicago institutions—total $215,000 among twenty-one beneficiaries named by the testator and others to be named by the widow, who is given $50,000 to be distributed among such charities as she shall select.

The largest bequest is one of $100,000 to the pension fund of Morris & Co. DIVISION OF ESTATE.

The remainder of the estate goes to Mrs. Morris and the four children. It is left in the hands of six trustees with Mrs. Morris, Jr., minors, constitute three of the trustees, although the two boys cannot cast the deciding vote in case of a tie to be cast by the widow, who, with her sons, act until they have attained their majority.

His Perfect Evening Dress is Half His Social prestige

WHEN the occasion calls for Full Dress it's the unwritten social law that the best Dress clothes purchasable are to honor the call. It's an unchanging understanding at this store that such description accompanies every man's order for Evening wear.

Muse Dress Suit regulations include—or we should say, demand—fine quality cloth—smooth, rich and elegant. The suit of conventional lines is the garment that acknowledges not indifferent handling. Nothing less than the absolute is considered as perfect.

In the matter of style, much of it is regulated by the social dress conventions, but it's the little touches that distinguish one season's suit from the last.

The perfection and fineness of Muse Dress clothes are the result of close observation, and the rightly applied knowledge of the business of providing good clothes in their correct form for men of good dress.

G. M. A. STUDENTS FIGHT FIRE AT COLLEGE PARK

Save Furniture While Home of
J. M. Milner Goes Up in Smoke

The home of J. M. Milner in College Park was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Prompt action by the students of Georgia Military Academy, located nearby, saved a large part of the furniture of the house. The East Point fire department and the College Park department responded to the call, but arrived too late to save the building, an eight-room cottage.

Four times the fire caught the residence of E. D. Barrett, next door, and the efforts of the fire fighters were confined to keeping the flames from spreading. A stiff wind was blowing and this handicapped the work.

SCHOOL IS DISMISSED.
When the fire was discovered, the pupils of the Georgia Military Academy were dismissed and hurried to the scene. Blankets, furniture and every movable article was grabbed by the valiant young firemen, but for whose action every thing would have been consumed. They succeeded in rescuing more than a wagonload of belongings.

It is thought no one was at home when the fire was discovered. Mr. Milner, who is a telegraph operator, was down town at the time and could not be found.

Two Homes Burned
With Loss of $3,000

The homes of W. H. Davidson, at 17 Marion street, and I. T. Baas, 19 Marion street, were burned Tuesday morning at 4:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Baas discovered the fire in the Davidson home and awakened her husband, who shouted for Mr. Davidson. Unable to awaken him by his cries, Mr. Baas fired his pistol several times. This awakened the Davidson family. The fire had gained such headway that the occupants were forced to flee in their night clothes. Only Mr. Davidson's overcoat was saved.

Miss Anna Olsen, of New York, a visitor to Mrs. Davidson, lost everything, and with the other members of the household took shelter in the home of a neighbor.

The fire department had been summoned, but before it arrived the Davidson home was almost a total wreck. The theory of the department was started to save the Baas home, which had caught fire from the other home. It was also practically consumed before the fire was put out. Mr. Baas saved a few pieces of furniture and some trinkets.

The loss to each house is estimated at $1,500.

Thirty minutes after the Marion street fire, the department received a call to 410 First street, a vacant negro house, which was reported ablaze. When the firemen arrived the house had spread to 412 First street, both owned by Estelle Arnold, and to 18 Arthur street, owned by George Reed, both occupied. All three places were practically destroyed.

ATLANTA TAMMANY MAY SPRING FROM BANQUET

Three Prospective Mayors
Talk at Hotel Winecock
Dinner

Atlanta as she will be politically and municipally a few years from now formed the undercurrent of every address delivered at the banquet to local hotel men and prominent citizens at the Winecock hotel Monday night.

The men who have made Atlanta, from the year 1850 to the present, were gathered around tables in a little upstairs room, and they were also the men of whom Atlanta's political future will depend.

Around the banquet board were three much-talked-of mayoralty candidates. Each was referred to openly in this manner, and out one denied it, while the impromptu toastmaster, Walter P. Andrews, who sat at the head of the table, said each bore strongly on what may happen at the mayoralty election next fall. It was like a "star-chamber" conference—WE'VE GOT TO ORGANIZE.

"We have some things ahead we will have to work out," said Mr. Andrews. "Some of us have got to get together and make the job in reference to the city in this city. When that time comes I pledge you the support of every man here and of every other loyal citizen of Atlanta."

Later in the evening Mr. Andrews said: "The next mayoralty primary will be the hottest ever held in this city. It will decide whether the lid shall go on tight in this town or whether Atlanta will have a progressive, liberal, business administration."

Through it all there was so much jocularity and "banter" that it was hard to separate the serious from the merely facetious; but it was evident that even the jokes in reference to the city's future were fraught with more meaning than appeared on the surface.

The banquet was given by Mr. Winecock to the hotel men of Atlanta and some of her more prominent citizens merely as a good natured "get-together" and to organize against certain elements in the legislature, acted as a representative in the legislature, and the speaker was Colonel Robert L. Lowry, Mayor Woodward, W. P. Andrews, Charles P. Light, and the good road congress committee: Lee M. Jordan, W. P. Winecock, Colonel P. J. Bacon, Forrest Adair and J. Lee Barnes.

When Mr. Andrews was called upon to speak the toastmaster made a reference to his rumored candidacy for the Atlanta mayoralty.

"As for politics," said Mr. Andrews, in the course of his speech, "I have supported him time and again. He has saved Atlanta, several time administrations, and has left many monuments to his ability, energy and skill."

With a gleam of humor in his eyes Mr. Andrews turned to Forrest Adair and said: "Adair, you are the next mayor of Atlanta, he told me privately that he was running and had things worked up."

Then somebody in the rear started him time and again. He has saved Atlanta, several time administrations, and has left many monuments to his ability, energy and skill."

Later in the evening Mr. Andrews stated that he was to no sense an announced candidate for mayor.

"I can not tell," he said, "until I return from Europe what my position will be. If certain people who are now advocating a more liberal city administration, which I am sure is the only way to run a city, can show me clearly next Sunday, I can show to run—why, I will consider it."

to 6:30, class in folk dancing.

Thursday: 2 to 4, Girls' High school; 4:30 to 6:30, business women; 7 to 8, basketball.

Friday: 4 to 6, young women; 6:30 to 8:30, 19 to 21, girls from eight to fourteen years of age; 11:10 to 12, folk dancing.

Saturday: 10 to 11, girls from eight to fourteen years of age; 11:10 to 12, folk dancing.

Sunday: 10 to 11, girls from eight to fourteen years of age; 11:10 to 12, folk dancing.

Thanks

We are going to celebrate Thanksgiving in which the value giving will be very Thanksgiving is pre-eminently an acknowledgment of the divine blessings of harvest. From the ceremonial record of his gratefulness for the yield that is to be his support during the unfruitful years. We are all close enough to the soil to have some appreciation of its wonders. And this Thanksgiving orchard--commercially--the products of which to be a real profit to all who come to share them. Our New Store--and all that it means in expression and growth--and the increased ability to serve. Yes! This is a season of special rejoicing with us. And we are giving thanks for the best part of a good year's business that has been built upon more than the mere love of gain. Its code has been a success. There have been times when the head and hand fell short of the day's goal. But the public has made for ennoblement and good will, found their basis in the right principle--the system of fair dealing.

So Then This Ringing Message

In the series of sales which we have planned--beginning tomorrow--by reason of our increased buying ability, we give larger, better and sounder value than we have at any time been able to offer.

Women's $25 Top Coats at $15

To quote their extraordinary price does not tell you how truly good they are to look at. The style and value are exceptional, and you will agree that they are the most remarkable values you have seen at such a price. The material is zibeline of lovely quality, a very smart three-quarter length, with collar, cuffs and large ornamental buttons of plush; choose from these colors, navy, golden brown, taupe or black; all sizes.

Woman's Club Celebrates Birthday

The meeting of the Atlanta Woman's club on Monday afternoon at the club house on Baker street was an interesting occasion and was unusually well attended.

The program embraced a wide variety of subjects.

Mr. Gilmer Perry gave a lecture on "Twentieth Century Thought," which was replete with interest and furnished food for thought.

Mrs. Hubbard gave a brief but comprehensive sketch of the child welfare exhibit which will be shortly held in the city and which will hold the attention of thinking women throughout the state.

Mrs. Spencer Atkinson followed with short account of the very successful bridge tea given recently at the Annapolis.

Among the topics of the afternoon was resolution introduced by Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith and Mrs. James Jackson upon the expediency of women transacting all business which has to be done by telephone before the evening. Short talks followed, illustrating the evil effects upon the harmony of the home circle occasioned by the ceaseless ringing of the bell, which called the attention of the women of the family to trivial matters which could so easily have been transacted in the earlier hours of the day.

The celebration of the club's seventy-fifth birthday followed the meeting, which will be shortly held in the city, when sixteen candles burned, was cut by all present, and a pleasant informal social hour followed.

Allen's Fifth Anniversary Sale of Dresses

The Smart New Things in Street and Evening Wear at Conspicuous Savings Here This Week

To the initiated we need to say very little of Allen's Ready-to-Wear. It is only to lately arrived residents and to Atlanta's visitors that we feel impressed to tell of values in an Allen Dress Sale.

There isn't an occasion, nor a dress needed for it, that you may not satisfactorily seek here the desired and appropriate adornment---from the most elaborate evening gown to the simple and smart wool frock for shopping or business use.

So much for our collection, and the Allen service. The Allen sale advantage is the present consideration. Consider the prices quoted and see the dresses. Then you may consider the variety of fine materials used, and the larger attraction of your knowing that Allen Ready-to-Wear faithfully reflects the happiest and most distinctive phases of Fashion.

Velvet Dresses New and Modish

There's nothing so rich as velvet, there's nothing so modish this season as velvet. The velvet dresses in this sale are all new--new styles and new to our stock. You have not seen them before--they're not a collection that has been selected from. They're the new browns and greens, taupe, raisin and black. They're fur trimmed and they're touched with lace and brightened with a glimpse of color on the collar and cuffs, in the girdle and sash ends. They have modish waistcoats, and inset vests of lace--heavy incrustated lace and fine silk-run shadow lace.

Skirts are draped and minaret designs. They're all so good, the choosing will be hard--These handsome velvet dresses--

S. I. A. A. Disqualifies Preas From Playing Football At Tech

Preas Disqualified From Football Team; Hard Blow to Tech

News of Executive Committee's Ruling Came Like Bolt Out of Clear Sky Monday Afternoon, and Hope of Beating Georgia Has Turned to Gloom in Camp of the Yellow-jackets — Scholarship at Bingham School, Which Came Out Several Weeks Ago, Is Cause of Action Against Brilliant Athlete Who Was a Helmsman Mainstay

Like a bolt from a clear sky came the news Monday afternoon that Jim Preas, the big tackle of the Yellow-jackets, had been declared ineligible to play amateur sports by the executive committee of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association, the body that rules out players in the south, when they have played professional ball or otherwise overstepped the bounds of the amateur.

It was thought that Preas would be allowed to play, but the committee has decided that he received his scholarship at Bingham for athletic reasons alone and that under such conditions he is ineligible to play with Tech. This is one of the hardest blows that the Yellow-jackets have ever received, coming as it does right on the eve of the biggest game of the season with no chance whatever to train a man to play his place.

After the crushing defeat from Auburn it looked as if there was a slight chance of the team getting together and winning from the Georgians, but this hope has turned to gloom in the Tech camp. Tech is minus one extra possible all-southern tackle—the man last kicks the ball behind the goal line from the kick-off—the man that does the biggest game of the season with no chance whatever to train a man to play his place.

Preas is no longer a member of the jacket squad. He has joined that innumerable caravan of ineffectuals that marches down the lane of time carrying with them the scar of professionalism, because at the age of seventeen or under they erred in their judgment of what they could accept as reward for the athletic ability that they possessed.

Jim Thorpe played summer baseball because he liked the sport and he had to bow before the inevitable and admit that he was not strictly speaking, an amateur.

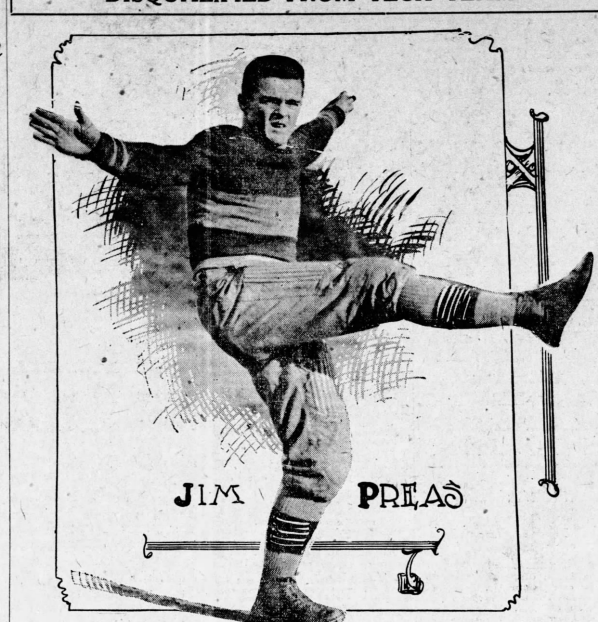

Jim Preas is one of the finest specimens of physical manhood in the south. He is now barred from college and amateur athletics because, as a youth of seventeen, he accepted a scholarship thinking that he was being honored by the school and that he was not strictly speaking, an amateur.

The Tech varsity went to its work with a will and a determination Monday and though there was nothing done but sign war, the men went at it with their whole souls. There was a full attendance of both scrub and varsity men and both teams worked as if it was their last battle.

The loss of Preas will be a heavy one as he has been counted on up until this time and has never thought that he would be ruled out at this time of the year after he had been allowed to play so far.

All of the cripples are running into shape and there will not be any injured list next Saturday, provided there are no smash-ups during scrimmage. This week will be the last hard scrimmage of the season, for there will be very little doing after the Georgia game, but this week will be the hard one of the season. The men will be driven to the breaking point in order to perform plays and get condition. Just who will take the vacant tackle has not yet been decided upon.

Cunningham Drives The Georgia Team For Big Tech Game

Absolutely Secret Practice All the Week Is Now the Program on Sanford Field—Hospital List Improving Rapidly, Though Powell's Charley Horse, Henderson's Wrenched Back and Conklin's Shake-Up Still Need Careful Attention—Athletic Director Sanford Insists on Staging the Game at Ponce de Leon Instead of at Grand Field

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 11.—Everything and everybody in the College city is looking forward to the great Georgia-Tech game next Saturday in Atlanta. No game in Dixie ever will, or ever has attracted such widespread attention.

The Red and Black squad are doing the hardest work of the season in preparing for this game. Yesterday the squad practiced for at least three-quarters of an hour after dark, the moon being in full and Sanford field being as light as day. Absolutely secret practice is the bill at Sanford this week and the coaches have squads of students and baseball men doing guard and picket duty on the hillside and around the territory. The only possible way to get a glimpse at the team is to sail over the field in an aircraft and then it might be dangerous.

The hospital list is practically clear now, although Powell has a severe "charley horse" that simply won't get well, Henderson has a wrenched back and Conklin's shake-up still needs careful attention. The Athletic Director Sanford insists on staging the game at Ponce de Leon instead of at Grand Field.

Georgia has developed in McKinnon quite a punter and more than likely he will be depended on to boot the pig skin in Saturday's game. High Conklin has rounded into shape and is no longer bothered with the "charley horse." He was running signals yesterday and Smith was put in at right end.

Faddock will run the team as usual, and he will uncoil plays and formations next Saturday that the Tech boys have never seen or heard of. Cunningham is working on new plays entirely this week and hence the secret practice. These plays will spring quite a surprise, the boys here say, but they will go no further in their description.

Y. V. Sanford, the athletic director, gave out a statement today that the contract between Georgia and Tech did not call for the game to be played on Grand field, and that if Tech did not concede the game to Ponce de Leon park then a contract would have to be drawn up which would call for the game to be played one year in Atlanta and the next year in Athens. He contended it is nothing but fair that the game should be played on neutral grounds, not only in fairness to the players but also that the crowd, which usually is very large, ought to be afforded the best accommodation.

Although Georgia does not want to lose the chance of playing the Tech team, still they seem to have taken the stand that it must be played at Ponce de Leon or not at all.

A holiday has been declared in the University for that day and a special train of fifteen cars will leave Saturday morning with students and Athenians and will return Saturday night.

It is estimated that at least 2,000 Athens people will be in Atlanta on that day and will lend their support to the Red and Black.

Ritchie Wins Over L. Cross

Lightweight Champion Easily Wins the Honors in Ten-Round New York Bout

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—While Ritchie, lightweight champion of the world, defeated Leach Cross, of this city, in a ten-round bout, which went the limit at Madison Square Garden last night.

The men weighed in at 9 o'clock, both under the stipulated weight of 135 pounds. The rugged weights were announced as Ritchie 127 pounds and Cross 124 1/2.

With the exception of the first round, which was even, and the eighth, in which Cross had a decided advantage, Ritchie had the honors.

In the second, after a mix-up, Ritchie all but knocked out Cross with a right hand to the jaw. Cross was in a stooping position. Though the fall was a heavy one, Ritchie did not seem to be much the worse for it.

In the third round Ritchie knocked Cross down twice, each time for the count of nine. The first fall was a right smash on the jaw, followed by a right half uppercut. After Cross remained on his feet, Ritchie rushed him across the ring and put him down with another right, which was a blow of a shaven head.

When Cross got up he came back with a hard left hook on the jaw, it almost broke the chin of the champion. Ritchie again, forced Ritchie to the canvas with another right, which was a blow of a shaven head.

Ritchie won easily, but Cross was full of fight and his power of recuperation surprised the western boys as well as the spectators.

From the fourth round to the end of the eighth, Cross received most of the punishment, but in the eighth round and the fighting all through was hard and fast. Cross, who was not much the worse for it, was receiving punishment, but he was waiting to see if he could win easily. A chance to do so never came.

The sixth round was where Cross showed to the best advantage. He landed lefts and rights to head and body, and who had the better of the fighting. He shook Ritchie from being with a left hook to the jaw.

Ritchie's showing was not quite up to the standard of former lightweight champions who have been seen here. But Cross at all times was a dangerous fighter, no matter how good his opponent may be, and he was not to be taken for granted at all stages in endeavoring to win Ritchie's title, which the westerner had placed at stake. In this match.

RISE OF HEINIE WAGNER FROM "HELL'S KITCHEN" TO WORLD'S CHAMPIONS

Just how high an ambitious boy, blessed with ability, can climb in baseball, was never demonstrated more forcibly than by Heinie Wagner, the bustling little field leader of the Boston Red Sox.

About fifteen years ago Billy Rodenhach, former amateur middleweight boxing champion, managed and played with a nine on New York's upper west side. The team was to play a formidable club in New Jersey and the day before the game the third baseman went to bed, mighty sick, counting down his minutes in the organization, for it wasn't easy to die up a good infielder on short notice.

Rodenbach had given up hope of making any sort of a showing in the game when a friend met him and said, "Billy, there's a kid down in Hell's Kitchen that looks like the goods. Go take a look at him."

Rodenbach went to the historic ground and at thirty-ninth street and Eleventh avenue found a game for the "championship of the kitchen" in progress.

Rodenbach stood his eyes on the third baseman of one team and was impressed with the way the kid covered all sorts of bases and sailed them across to the first baseman.

Between innings Rodenhach approached the kid and asked him to go over to Jersey the next day to play with his club.

College Women Athletes Form an Association

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Graduates from fifteen women's colleges have perfected an organization here through which they hope to keep up the interest in athletics which they fostered in their undergraduate days.

Miss Lillian Trumbull, of the University of Wisconsin, who was a leader in field events at the college for four years, is at the head of the new association.

More than 600 women, now residents of colleges at Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Cornell, Vassar, and other colleges, have applied for membership, it is declared.

The association plans to go in first for bowling, gymnastics, swimming, basketball, fencing and fancy dancing, but later extend to field sports.

Expects M'Graw To Help Chatty

New Lookout Manager Thinks Finn Won't Get All the Surplus Material

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 11.—Mique Finn, the Liberator leader of the Memphis Turtles, who up until the present date has gambled, unmolested among the Giant colts at Martin Springs and carried all that struck his fancy, will find "Moose" McCormick invading the pasture during the approaching season.

McCormick's presence at Martin it may be said, will not be as urgent as that of the Irishman, since "Moose" needs only a third-sucker and a heaver. But the lookout pilot will nevertheless be on the ground at an advanced date and every promising youngster will be duly considered as a local possibility.

Finn has issued several statements to the effect that Gault and the bulk of McCormick's surplus material will be seen in Turtle uniforms in the spring. But it is one safe bet that McCormick will get very nearly every man he recognizes from the Blue Napoleon.

The acquisition of a good pitcher, although the necessity of annexing a third sucker has been greatly stressed, McCormick faces, for both Gillespie and Brandt are already upon the local payroll. If Jimmy had fully recovered from the blow he received he would undoubtedly be acceptable for the entire season and at any rate for the first thirty days.

McCormick needs another man, however, to open the season with. The passing of Commodore will be one that only a star actor can fill.

McCormick has at his command at present Bonhomme, Kohn, Howell and Grimes, but the first named alone is certain to prove all in every particular. Howell is young, though he shows wonderful promise. Kohn is at times unreliable, and Grimes may or may not develop into a star.

More Than Size Needed In Good Heavyweights

New York Scribe Says Tiny Vallincourt's 284 Pounds Would Avail Him Little as a Boxer, and Adds That Gunboat Smith at 185 Pounds Tops Them 'All--Vallincourt Is Called "Tiny" by Brother Soldiers, and Is Flirting With White Hope Aspirations

(BY ICONOCLAST.) NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Down in Texas there is a soldier whose enormous dimensions make such giants as Carl Morris and Jesse Willard mere pygmies in comparison. He stands six feet nine and a half inches and weighs 284 pounds. His full name is William C. Vallincourt, but he is known as "Tiny" by his comrades. "Tiny" has heard the call to become a white hope and is now looking for a competent trainer and backer to handle his affairs.

There was a time when the discovery of such an unusual specimen of humanity would have been hailed with great delight by those in search of the real white hope. But so many clumsy leishmanias have failed that the idea is dying out.

Carl Morris, Jesse Willard, Fred McKay and others well over the six-foot standard have been unable to make good despite their advantage in size and weight. At present Gunboat Smith, at 185 pounds, tops them all.

It takes something more than size and strength to make a successful pugilist. Al Reich, the former amateur, undoubtedly has the most remarkable physical development of any boxer since Jim Jeffries was in his prime. Yet it is extremely doubtful whether he will ever become even a good second rate. Reich has speed, he is not clumsy, he has a fairly good idea of the mechanics of boxing, he can deliver a heavy blow, but he has a weakness that more than offsets his good points. Like so many others, Reich is a wonder until he gets hit, but he cannot retain his form under fire. This is the supreme test of a fighting man. Those who pass it with credit make champions, but only one in a thousand does so.
